

Folk Music Ontario Conference 2023

London, ON October 12-15

WELCOME TO LONDON

Canada's UNESCO City of Music

For thousands of years, London has been home to creators. That is why it is so important to acknowledge the land we call London is on the traditional lands of the Anishinaabek, Haudenosaunee, Lūnaapéewak and Attawandaron peoples. Generations have gathered in this area to share music, culture and profound connections to the land. As a UNESCO City of Music, it remains a priority to create and maintain sustainable and equitable practices. This is why we are so excited to collaborate with our friends at Folk Music Ontario.

With this unique UNESCO designation, London is part of the largest cultural network on the planet, the UNESCO Creative Cities Network. We are also developing a more robust, culturally diverse and enriched community with music playing a guiding role in plans at a local and international level. The folk music community is comprised of so many incredible people who embody the goals of the UNESCO Creative Cities Network and align with London's vision.

We are thrilled to host everyone in London once again. We hope you have an enjoyable 2023 Folk Music Ontario Conference.

Folk Music Ontario Conference 2023 Design Concept by Jaymie Karn www.jaymiekarn.ca. Conference Guide Materials Design and Layout by Lisa Palfrey.

We acknowledge that we are gathered today on the traditional lands of the Anishinaabek (AUh-nish-in-ah-bek), Haudenosaunee (Ho-den-no-show-nee), Lunaapéewak (Len-ah-pay-wuk) and Attawandaron (Add-a-won-da-run).

We acknowledge all the treaties that are specific to this area: the Two Row Wampum Belt Treaty of the Haudenosaunee Confederacy/Silver Covenant Chain; the Beaver Hunting Grounds of the Haudenosaunee NANFAN Treaty of 1701; the McKee Treaty of 1790, the London Township Treaty of 1796, the Huron Tract Treaty of 1827, with the Anishinaabeg, and the Dish with One Spoon Covenant Wampum of the Anishinaabek and Haudenosaunee.

This land continues to be home to diverse Indigenous peoples (First Nations, Métis and Inuit) whom we recognize as contemporary stewards of the land and vital contributors to society. We hold all that is in the natural world in our highest esteem and give honor to the wonderment of all things within Creation. We bring our minds together as one to share good words, thoughts, feelings and sincerely send them out to each other and to all parts of creation. We are grateful for the natural gifts in our world, and we encourage everyone to be faithful to the natural laws of Creation.

The three Indigenous Nations that are neighbours to London are the Chippewas of the Thames First Nation; Oneida Nation of the Thames; and the Munsee-Delaware Nation who all continue to live as sovereign Nations with individual and unique languages, cultures and customs.

This Land Acknowledgement is a small step towards reconciliation. It is the work of all citizens to step towards decolonizing practices and bringing our awareness into action. We encourage everyone to be informed about the traditional lands, Treaties, history, and cultures of the Indigenous people local to their region and throughout Turtle Island.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

CÉCILE DOO-KINGUÉ

Greetings, good people!

With a smiling soul and hopeful spirit, I welcome you to this year's FMO conference.

Thanks to all of you for your contribution to our community's healing process, not only by your presence but through your musical endeavors, be they manifested on or off stage. Your participation is invaluable and essential to our solidifying and redefining our role in the cultural landscape and in the music industry. One of the positives to stem from the past few years is the collective realization that isolation is not viable. We need each other to survive, thrive and move forward, as was demonstrated through the number of individual and joint efforts to stay connected virtually as well as by the overwhelming conference attendance last and this year.

In this spirit, I wish you a joyful and inspiring 2023 FMO full of new friendships, discoveries, beautiful encounters and perspectives you hadn't yet imagined, and, of course, plenty of music.

Have a great family reunion!

Bonjour belles gens!

C'est avec l'âme souriante et l'esprit plein d'espoir que je vous souhaite la bienvenue à cette édition de la conférence FMO.

Merci à vous tous.tes pour votre contribution à la remise sur pied de notre communauté, non seulement par votre présence mais par tous vos efforts reliés à la musique, qu'ils se manifestent sur scène ou en coulisse. Votre participation est inestimable et essentielle aux rétablissement et confirmation de notre rôle dans le paysage culturel et plus particulièrement, dans le domaine de la musique. L'un des bienfaits des dernières années est la prise de conscience collective que l'isolement n'est pas une option viable. L'union et la coopération sont indispensables à notre survie, à notre épanouissement et à notre capacité d'aller de l'avant, tel que démontré par les multiples tentatives de rapprochement virtuel et le nombre impressionnant de participants aux conférences actuelle et de l'année passée.

C'est dans cet esprit que je vous souhaite une FMO 2023 pleine de joie, de nouvelles amitiés, de découvertes, de belles rencontres et de perspectives que vous ne pouviez vous imaginer et, bien sûr, pleine de musique.

Bonne réunion de famille!

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

ROSALYN DENNETT

Dear Folk Music Ontario Conference Delegates,

On behalf of Folk Music Ontario, it is my utmost pleasure to welcome you to the 2023 Folk Music Ontario Conference. We are delighted to have you join us in this vibrant celebration of folk music artistry and industry.

We would like to acknowledge the traditional and contemporary stewards of this land, the Anishinaabek, Haudenosaunee, Lūnaapéewak, and Attawandaron First Nations, as we gather on their territory.

Thank you to the City of London, Tourism London, and London's Music Development Office, for their unwavering support. It's been marvellous to witness their commitment to developing and elevating the city's music community, as Canada's only UNESCO City of Music.

This event would not be possible without the steadfast support of our dedicated funders, sponsors, and partners who share our passion for music's transformative power and understand its crucial economic impact. Your generous contributions have made this event a reality, and we are deeply grateful.

I would like to extend my heartfelt thanks to the staff and volunteers who are working tirelessly to ensure the success of this event, and to our dedicated board of directors, whose passion for the folk music community is the guiding force behind our mission.

Music has the power to unite, inspire, and heal. As we come together over the next few days, let's remember the responsibility we hold as change-makers, soul-shakers, and caretakers. Let's revel in the harmony, breathe through the dissonance, and cherish the diversity of our world, as we work together to make it a better place.

FOLK MUSIC ONTARIO BOARD MEMBERS

Jo Proulx
DIRECTOR
TERM ENDS 2024

Radio producer Jo Proulx (French/Abenaki) created the weekly French-speaking radio show ICI INDIE on 105.1 FM that exclusively plays music by Indigenous artists. The idea of this show came after realizing that Indigenous musicians are often automatically boxed into the traditional Indigenous flute-and-drum genre. Indigenous musicians have always been part of the mainstream music industry, including Folk music, but are often not acknowledged. ICI INDIE spins all genres (Folk, Americana, Country, Dance, Punk, Rock, Hip Hop) to break that stereotype. In April 2022, Jo founded Aki Media, a radio promotion and tracking company that promotes Indigenous artists beyond genres. Current artist roster includes several Folk artists: Digging Roots, Amanda Rheame, Julian Taylor, and Morgan Toney.

Candace Shaw
DIRECTOR
TERM ENDS 2024

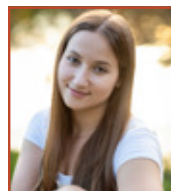

Candace Shaw is a Feminist, Cultural Producer, and Activist who has been a fixture on the Canadian music scene for almost thirty years. She was the long-time Artistic Director for the Peterborough Folk Festival, Chair of the Shelter Valley Folk Festival, and Booker for the Music City Summer Series in The Distillery District, Toronto, amongst other roles. She is a thoughtful, engaging, and provocative commentator and advocate for women, the arts, and arts workers' rights, and in 2019 was a candidate in the Federal election. Candace is the founder of Secret Frequency.ca, a not-for-profit advocacy and education organization working with under-represented people in the Canadian music industry.

Sherry Sinclair
DIRECTOR
TERM ENDS 2024

Sherry Sinclair has been working in the Canadian music and entertainment industry for over 25 years, with more than a decade focusing on digital content. Canadian folk music gem, Catherine MacLellan. Previously working at companies like Bell Media, TELUS, Virgin Records, MCA/Universal Concerts (now Live Nation) and TicketMaster has allowed her to develop relationships throughout the recording, concert, radio, press, television, film, and telecom industries. Sherry's skills in partner management, marketing, promotions, event management, digital content and business strategy; gives her the rare advantage of understanding how the industry works with content partners, product development, legal, and government regulatory bodies. Sherry is passionate about helping independent and developing artists who often benefit from her previous work with global acts such as Taylor Swift, The Rolling Stones, David Bowie, Janet Jackson and top television brands like HBO Canada, CTV, TSN, Space and Much.

This year Folk Music Ontario is proud to announce that the Taylor Mitchell Bursaries will be awarded to each of the artists participating in this year's Developing Artists Program.

Congratulations!

FOLK MUSIC ONTARIO ANNOUNCES ERIN BENJAMIN AND TRESA LEVASSEUR AS THE 2023 ESTELLE KLEIN AWARD RECIPIENTS

The Estelle Klein Lifetime Achievement Award will be presented to Erin Benjamin and the inaugural Estelle Klein Community Builder Award will be presented to Treasa Levasseur. Erin and Treasa will receive their awards and be honoured with a special video & presentation at the Ontario Folk Music Awards on Sunday, October 15, 2023.

Named after Estelle Klein, a long-time advocate of Canadian Folk music and one of the initial founders of the Folk festival scene, the Estelle Klein Award honours the work of an individual or group that has made significant contributions to Ontario's folk music community. For the first time in 2023, the Estelle Klein Award has been divided into two separate areas of recognition - The Community Builder Award, and The Lifetime Achievement Award. Recipients are nominated by the members of Folk Music Ontario, and selected by a committee made up of the board of directors and invited stakeholders.

ERIN BENJAMIN - LIFETIME ACHIEVEMENT AWARD

An award-winning community builder and driving force in Canadian Association leadership, Erin Benjamin has worked in the music industry for over 25 years. Originally a touring and recording artist and then as executive director of both Folk Music Ontario (2001) and the Canadian Arts Presenting Association (2008), today Erin continues her work as the first and only President & CEO of the Canadian Live Music Association (since its founding in 2014). An unflagging champion for the live music sector, particularly during COVID-19, she currently serves as a board member for the Ottawa Board of Trade, the United Way Eastern Ontario and the Ottawa Film Office. Over the years she has served a wide variety of organizations as a board member including The Unison Fund, Folk Alliance International, the Songwriters Association of Canada, the National Arts Centre's Creation Fund, RBC Ottawa Bluesfest and others.

"Erin is a tenacious and inspiring leader, whose story is woven into the fabric of folk community through her career as an artist, nearly a decade of building Folk Music Ontario into the organization it is today, advising a wide breadth of music industry organizations through her board service, and ultimately, being a champion for the live music industry; our festivals, venues and live music workers. Thank you, Erin, for your fearless and inspiring leadership, for keeping the spirit of folk with you through all that you do, and for the mentorship and guidance you gift to the next generation of leaders." - Rosalyn Dennett, Executive Director, Folk Music Ontario

TRESA LEVASSEUR - COMMUNITY BUILDER AWARD

Treasa Levasseur is a busy creative who wears many hats with enthusiasm. She is a JUNO-nominated songwriter, a seasoned sideperson and has self-released 4 albums over the course of her career as a front person. These days she is finding fresh inspiration in her work as a community music facilitator, program administrator and arts educator, as well as being an in demand MC and pop-up choir leader. Treasa helmed the Developing Artist Program at Folk Music Ontario for 6 years and recently completed a six year stint at Folk Alliance International. Elle est une fierte Franco-Ontarienne, and a proud Hamiltonian, and believes strongly in the power of personal expression as an agent of positive change.

"Treasa's name is synonymous with community. When she puts her creative heart into a project, around her grows a fellowship of artists, students, and dreamers, inspired by her effusive joy, thoughtful curation, and intentional programming. Thank you, Treasa, for manifesting safe and special communities for new generations of creatives to thrive in. You exude the spirit of Estelle in your honest and innovative leadership style, and we are very excited to celebrate your contributions to the folk community with the inaugural Estelle Klein Community Builder Award." - Rosalyn Dennett, Executive Director, Folk Music Ontario

ABIGAIL LAPELL

Toronto songwriter Abigail Lapell returns with Stolen Time, her elemental and powerfully evocative third album. Produced by Howard Bilterman (Leonard Cohen, U.S. Girls) at Montreal's Hotel2Tango, Stolen Time feels unhurried, psychedelic and otherworldly in the vein of Gillian Welch or Karen Dalton. An eclectic cast of musicians including Fats Kaplin (John Prine, Beck), Christine Bougie (Bahamas, Gretchen Peters), Dani Nash (Andy Shauf, Sarah Harmer), and Dan Fortin (John Southworth, Serena Ryder) - underscores the power of Lapell's vocals on live-off-the-floor, 70s folk rock arrangements featuring bass, drums, horns, strings and steel. But many of the album's standout tracks are solo guitar or piano songs, backed by little more than ghostly accordion or harmonica. The result is Lapell's most ambitious and confident album to date, which has earned praise from Rolling Stone, Brooklyn Vegan, Flood, Exclaim! and No Depression. Over the past five years and two spellbinding releases, Lapell has garnered three Canadian Folk Music Awards (English Songwriter of the Year in 2020 and 2022, and Contemporary Album of the Year in 2017) and a staggering 30 million+ Spotify streams while touring widely across Canada, the U.S. and Europe. Stolen Time was released April 2022 on Outside Music.

AL QAHWA

Al Qahwa is Maryem Tollar on vocals, riqq (Arabic tambourine) and qanun (Arabic table harp); Ernie Tollar on wind instruments; Demetri Petsalakis on oud; Naghmeh Fahrahmand on percussion; and Waleed Abdulhamid on bass and vocals. The group name Al Qahwa is Arabic for "the coffee house". It was inspired by the coffee house culture in the Middle East where people would go to hear the latest news, music, poetry and stories. The repertoire began with traditional songs from Syria, Egypt and Iraq. In 2018, the group started adding original repertoire by members of the band. Al Qahwa's new recording "Weyn Allah" was released on June 1, 2023 on all digital platforms. The CD was made possible by The Toronto Arts Council and The Ontario Arts Council.

ONTARIO FOLK MUSIC AWARD 2023 NOMINEES

AMANDA RHEAUME

Winner of the 2023 Capital Music Awards for Album of the Year (The Spaces in Between) and Winner of the 2023 Canadian Folk Music Awards for Indigenous Songwriter of the Year, Amanda Rheume's (she/her) rootsy, guitar-driven ballads introduce crucial dimensions to the world of Heartland Rock. In a genre characterized by anthems of underdogs, assumptions, and unfair advantages, Rheume's sound and story crucially and radically expand geographic and cultural boundaries to make space for new perspectives on resistance and resilience. A Citizen of the Métis Nation and an active and proud member of the 2SLGBTQ+ community, Rheume's music is indeed from the heart, and the land.

First a songwriter, Rheume comes from a long line of tireless, transformational organizers and activists. She carries this lineage forward in her ever-growing role as a crucial builder of Indigenous music infrastructure and community. From the International Indigenous Music Summit, to co-founded Ishkodé Records, and the National Indigenous Music Office, the goal of raising Indigenous sovereignty in the music industry drives all of Rheume's work.

Rheume has released 5 full-length albums over a period of 15 years, at the same time fostering a self-managed career travelling for countless tours and milestones. 2013's Keep a Fire was nominated for a JUNO Award and won a Canadian Folk Music Award for Indigenous Songwriter of the Year. With her most recent album, "The Spaces In Between," (2022) featuring songs that embody a driving, surging Copperhead Road-esque journey through a wilfully, harmfully misrepresented chapter in a violent colonial timeline, Rheume makes a powerful statement about history and identity.

This multi-talented, multi-instrumentalist, multi-genre singer-songwriter/composer has wowed audiences across the globe with her electrifying performances, instrumental abilities and powerful textured vocals. Angelique has shared the stage/opened for a large roster of well-known musicians such as Gary Clark Jr, Joe Bonamassa, Eric Gales, Keb'Mo', Jimmy Vivino, Beth Hart, Tom Cochran, Burton Cummings, and many more. Her diversity, passion and love of music can be heard in all of her original compositions.

ONTARIO FOLK MUSIC AWARD 2023 NOMINEES

AYSANABEE

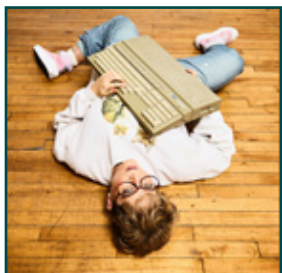

Aysanabee (he/him) is a multi-instrumentalist, producer and singer songwriter currently based in Toronto. He is Oji-Cree, Sucker Clan of the Sandy Lake First Nation, a remote fly-in community in the far reaches of Northwestern Ontario.

Aysanabee (Evan Pang) began creating music under his mother's maiden name during the pandemic when the stillness allowed him to slow down and create music that, he says, more accurately represents himself as an artist. With a swirling mix of indie, soul, and electronic sounds, mournful saxophone, and pulse-quickening fingerpicking, Aysanabee's music is both hypnotic and melodious, and has been compared to Bon Iver, Matt Corby, Don Ross, Kim Churchill, Kings of Leon, and Sam Smith among others.

His debut album, Watin (Nov 2022), named after his grandfather, includes 10 tracks and nine interludes featuring the voice of his grandfather that combines music and journalism with artistry and expression. "Watin' actually started out as a series of conversations between myself and my grandfather", says Aysanabee. "We spent the first year of the pandemic talking about things we've never spoken about, his life on the trapline on Sandy Lake First Nation, falling in love, his life in residential school and then leaving everything behind. We never spoke of it until now. Even though we were over 1,000 kilometres apart, it was probably the closest we've ever been."

In what became a whirlwind year for Aysanabee, he released his first single, We Were Here in July of 2022. This single charted on the Indigenous Music Countdown and was featured on an episode of Station 19. This single was also performed live at the 2023 JUNO Awards, further solidifying Aysanabee as a major player in Canadian music. The year continued with the release of Nomads (August 2022) which charted on Billboard Canada, became #1 on CBC Music and #1 on the Alternative Radio Chart (March 2023), and finally, Ego Death (October 2022), which led up to the release of his full album, Watin, in November.

With the success of his debut releases, 2023 continues that wave of accomplishments with multiple nominations, awards, and a full summer tour schedule, further proof that Aysanabee has made a name for himself as a unique and talented artist, one that will continue to influence Canadian music for years to come.

BARBRA LICA

Barbra Lica is a JUNO-nominated singer-songwriter based in Toronto. A seasoned act on the Canadian and American club and festival circuits, Barbra Lica has performed everywhere from New York City's legendary Birdland to Toronto's prestigious Koerner Hall. Her 2017 album, You're Fine (Justin Time Records), marked the introduction of Folk and Americana to her repertoire and has amassed over 5.6 million streams to date on Spotify. In addition to writing for herself, Barbra has written cuts for such artists as jazz crooner Matt Dusk (Entertainment One/Universal), rising J-Pop singer Harumi (Sony Music Japan), and Taiwanese pop recording artist, Morrison Ma (Universal Music Group/X Entertainment). She is currently promoting her first self-produced EP 'Imposter Syndrome' - released October 2022 with generous support from FACTOR, as well as her new chamber orchestra project featuring all-original songs arranged by Barbra for 14 instruments plus voice.

Leilani's Fortune

Directed by Loveleen Kaur

Leilani's Fortune is an intimate journey that follows the blossoming career of queer, Ethiopian-Eritrean artist Witch Prophet. After a decade of struggling as an independent artist, she is finally getting the validation and support she needs to create her album of prophecies. Canada boasts some of the biggest names in music, including Celine Dion, Justin Bieber, Michael Bublé, and Drake. With her hypnotic harmonies and genre bending sound, she is poised to shape the next era of global Canadian artists.
